RADIO SHACK PLANS 21 ADDITIONAL TELEPHONE CENTERS NATIONWIDE

FORT WORTH, TEXAS -- Plans to enter the second phase of the Radio Shack Telephone Center development program were announced today by John V. Roach, Chairman of the Board, Chief Executive Officer and President, Tandy Corporation. Earlier this year the Company opened four prototype Radio Shack Telephone Centers in Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas, Louisville and Lexington, Kentucky.

In making the announcement, Mr. Roach said, "Each of the initial Radio Shack Telephone Centers has received an enthusiastic response from both business and residential consumer markets. Sales and profits have proven the timeliness of our telephone center concept."

Plans are to open 11 additional full-line Radio Shack Telephone Centers in major markets nationwide within the next few months. Each will have the same lines of consumer and business equipment and will follow the marketing programs that have proven successful in the four prototype stores with the emphasis on telephone systems with 2 to 16 incoming lines.

The company also plans to open 10 Telephone Centers that will be in combination with existing Radio Shack Computer Centers. These Telephone Centers will offer commercial and residential telephone systems plus selected consumer products and pagers. The combination telephone and computer store may prove highly desirable because of the overlap in both customer base and technology.

Radio Shack Telephone Centers are equipped to provide hands-on demonstrations of business and residential telephone systems and products. Each Telephone Center has full maintenance facilities and staff technicians who install telephone systems and equipment. System leasing plans are available to commercial and institutional customers.

According to Mr. Roach, "Radio Shack will support its Telephone Center stores with advertising and promotions centered around the slogan 'Make Radio Shack your telephone company'".
