THE PERFECT CHRISTMAS PRESENT FOUND AT RADIO SHACK

Are you having trouble selecting a Christmas present for the special person in your life? Or the proverbial man who has everything? Radio Shack® has the perfect gift, the Universal Remote Control.

Radio Shack's innovation replaces all the remote controls in your house, the one for the VCR, the stereo, the TV... thus taming the remote control jungle and turning what has become one of life's great inconveniences back into a real convenience. The Universal Remote Control (URC) replaces up to eight infrared remote controls that come with entertainment products from nearly any manufacturer. Just place the URC head-to-head with another remote, press the matching buttons and the URC instantly learns and stores the proper operating codes, then transmits them when you press the appropriate function key.

Radio Shack's URC includes a built-in 7-day/5 event timer and a sequencing function, enabling it to perform up to 48 command sequences. For example, you can program the URC's timer to automatically turn on the cable box, select a channel, enter the parental code, turn on the VCR, select the correct channel, and set it to record. When the program has been recorded, the URC can be programmed to stop the VCR, and turn everything off. Or use the URC to program your stereo system to wake you every morning with your favorite melodies.

The Programmable Key Sequence enables the URC to control several devices and operations with a single keystroke. For example, instead of pressing three different buttons to turn on the TV, VCR and cable box you can now program the on/off functions into a single sequence command key and turn all three on with one button. The URC can be programmed with up to 120 commands.

This multifunction unit has an easy-to-see 8-digit LCD display, up/down channel and volume controls, eight VCR function keys, mute button, nine direct-entry selection keys and a lighted display for easy viewing in dim light.

The Universal Remote Control (cat. no. 15-1901) retails for $99.95 and is available at over 7,000 Radio Shack stores and participating dealers nationwide.
